ZERO TOLERANCE (PLAYERS)
Additionally, as school-based and beginning referees will be utilised to officiate within school competitions in 2016, it is vital that a supportive and positive environment is created that will allow these students to successfully develop their skills as a match official. For this reason the following modifications to the competition rules are strongly suggested for minor verbal abuse of a match official by a player:

» First Offence - Player is penalised

» Second Offence - a forced interchange is made for offending player. (Interchanged player cannot return for remainder of match). Competition convener to be notified of all forced interchange.

» Third Offence (in next game) – player is penalised.

» Fourth Offence - a forced interchange is made for offending player. (Interchanged player cannot return for remainder of this match). Competition convener to be notified of this forced interchange and offending player is suspended for minimum of two matches.

SUPERVISING TEACHERS ARE TO TAKE A LEADERSHIP ROLE IN THIS PROCESS

DISCIPLINARY ACTION
For serious acts of misconduct, any player can be charged and subsequently suspended if found guilty by the Queensland Primary School Rugby League or the Queensland Secondary School Rugby League under their standard disciplinary process. Any suspension handed down by these bodies applies to all forms of Rugby League including club and representative matches.

Additionally, any player suspended by their local league is ineligible to play school Rugby League. And suspensions imposed by local leagues should be communicated to the local Secondary School convener and/or school by the local league and player.
